D. C. TRIPLES SUM ASKED FOR FLOOD VICTIMS

More Than $500 Is Given Red Cross By Local Citizens, Clubs, Organizations

Mayor Paul Selmi, local Red Cross chairman, today reported that Daly City had donated more than three times the quota of $150 which it was asked to raise for eastern flood sufferers.

Stories have come to The Record of sacrifices by local citizens and organizations in an effort to make generous contributions to destitute Americans in inundated areas. The members of the fire department gave up their annual banquet and donated funds raised for the affair to the Red Cross. Schools and clubs have sponsored programs to raise money. The American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars plan entertainment affairs, proceeds of which will be given to the Red Cross. Many Daly City residents and public spirited citizens have donated generously to the cause.

Contributions have been made by each company of the local fire department and by the entire organization as a unit, Jefferson Union High School students and faculty and Woodrow Wilson School, the Daly City Merchants Association, the Daly City council and city employees, Harry Robb, Glob Tavern, E. Cuneo, G. R. Augustin, G. Volkman, Mrs. A. Selmi, Fred Linser, employees of the S. F. Golf Club, E. Rutter, Sam Miller, Mrs. Henry Schipper, A. Milo, Fred Machota, J. O. Ginotti, Frank Orfino, Grace Nelson, Peter Pavlos, Joe Farone, Henry Warshawski, John Dell, Dan Convery, Bert Ross and others. Contributions are still coming in.

"Daly City people have responded decisively to the call for relief aid," stated Mayor Selmi. "We may be justly proud of the spirit of generosity and co-operation which exists in our community."

Berkeley Manager Possible Executive

There is a move being sponsored by members of the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors to invite Hollis Thompson, Berkeley city manager, to succeed Walter T. Kellogg when a new county manager is to be seated on May 29.

For several years Thompson has been city manager of Berkeley. He served last year as president of the International City Managers Association, and he is a past president of the California League of Municipalities.

It is rumored that there is controversy among supervisors, for certain members favor appointing to the executive position former Redwood City Manager Ernest A. Rolison, who is now connected with the REA in Washington.

S. F. Man Crashes Rear Of Trolley

An auto driven by Alfred D. Sveningsen, 4257 Twenty fourth street, San Francisco, crashed into the rear of a street car at Mission and School streets, Wednesday evening of this week at 8 o'clock.

Sveningsen was charged with drunken driving, jailed in Daly City and released yesterday on $100 bail. Hearing in Judge Clays court was set for today at 3 p. m.

San Mateo Press Association Meets

The newspaper publishers of San Mateo County are planning a special meeting and dinner, Thursday evening, February 17, at the Benjamin Franklin Hotel, in San Mateo.

Senator Harry Parkman and Assemblyman Harrison Call, this county's representatives in the state Legislature, are to be honored as guests.

Present Building, Seventeen Years Old, Is Inadequate To Serve Local Needs

Featured in the current Daly City drive for civic improvements is a new library, secondary in importance in the entire program only to the proposed new city hall.

Grading of city lots on Wellington avenue east of the Catholic Church is planned in order to establish a site for the new library, a one story stucco building of modernistic design to harmonize with architectural plans for the city hall.

Specifications call for two reading rooms 23x25 feet each, a magazine and periodical alcove and librarian offices. Space will be provided for displays, filing cases and book stacks. An eight foot basement is to be located under the building.

Total cost of the library will be $20,800. A federal grant in the amount of 45 per cent will be available to defray more than $9000 of the total amount, leaving a share of less than $12,000 which Daly City must pay.

Detail costs of construction follow: Excavating and filling $500, building

Drive Started For S. M. "Fiesta Home"

In San Mateo County, this week, a program has been launched to build a "home for the fiesta." Stimulus for the move was the signing of a Senate bill by Governor Merriam which increased the Fiesta share of the state pari mutuel racing "take" and authorized use of the funds for capital outlay and improvements.

The building would be in the form of a civic auditorium serving the entire county. It would probably be known as the Veterans War Memorial Building, making possible additional federal grants.

The Fiesta building would probably be located in San Mateo or Burlingame, in the center of county population, according to William McCarthy, county publicity director, who has long advocated such a building.

He said that between $25,000 and $50,000 would in the future be paid to the Fiesta out of the racing proceeds.

A PWA grant could easily be obtained and the small remaining cost of the building could be provided for in a sinking fund set up by supervisors.

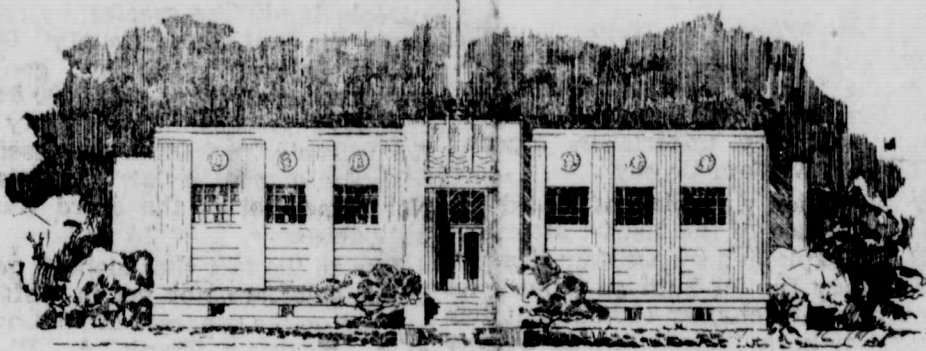

Girl Bride Is "Right Happy"

Mrs. Eunice Johns

Despite nationwide protests against the marriage of Eunice Winstead, 9, to 22 year old Tennessee backwoodsman, the bride said she "guessed she was right happy." The child is pictured in this Soundphoto as she played with her sister's baby. "I love Charlie," Eunice said. "I like to play housekeeping. I can make a bed up, carry wood and stir the clothes on wash day." Her parents approved the match.

NEW YORKER PEEVED AT MUTUEL PLANTS

By J. W. MARCHBANK

Now comes W. J. Macbeth with a tirade against tracks having pari mutuel wagering. He graciously omits Hialeah and Arlington Park from his castigation, saying the men back of the plant down in Florida and the Chicago course are different from operators of scores of other mutuel establishments.

Macbeth is the racing writer for the New York Herald-Tribune and the fact that the betting on the Metropolitan Circuit is of the bookmaking variety may have some bearing on his warped opinion. Another coincidence comes in the circumstance that the men back of Hialeah and Arlington Park race pretentious strings on the New York tracks.

Apparently the Eastern circuit was not well satisfied even with the way that Belmont Park, Aqueduct, Jamaica, Empire City and Saratoga were conducted last year; that is, there were not a sufficient number of events for what he calls the big stables, for, he says it is whispered that the racing associations of New York in the coming season will give the owners of large strings a far better break than usual.

This point of view is developed as follows: "The change is sincerely to be hoped for in the interest of the future, for should such pillars of the turf, who pay so heavily for the privilege of seeing their colors, turn their attention elsewhere it would be just too bad for all concerned."

The enemy of the pari mutuel tracks sees something that must be characterized as remarkable on the face of it—he pretends to note a difference between pari mutuel patrons and New York fans, saying:

"The pari mutuel patron is not discriminating. He demands full complement in fields irrespective of competition. To him racing is a game of chance rather than a sport."

Observers of attendants at the tracks over the years, whether the mode of wagering is mutuel or books, have found no difference in the attitude of the men and women in attendance. Everywhere the followers of the game are seeking that elusive thing, a winner; they don't care whether they are betting in a machine or with a man on a block.

D. C. MERCHANTS PETERSON OUT OF BOLSTER POST EXECUTIVE RACE OFFICE DRIVE IN S. M. COUNTY

Association Members Report "Special Interests" Are Circulating Unfavorable And False Publicity

The Daly City Merchants Association expressed at their meeting, Wednesday evening of this week, a unanimous desire to have established in Daly City an independent post office, an institution which would help build up a local pay roll, give efficient postal service and be housed in a building which will be a credit to this city.

Circulation of petitions for a local independent office to replace the San Francisco station, located on Wellington avenue near Mission street, was started late last month. A veteran committee, headed by Fred Linser, and a merchants committee, headed by W. E. Pitschke, plan to immediately push the post office drive on two fronts.

First, to compile facts concerning requirements for the establishment of a Daly City station which would give local citizens a creditable service.

Second, circulation of petitions throughout the community to obtain several thousand signatures. Petitions are to be sent to Post Master General Farley and Congressman McGrath. If necessary, leading civic

DALY CITY MAN THROWN FROM CAR AND KILLED—WIFE BADLY INJURED—IN S. F. ACCIDENT

Driver Of Second Automobile Involved In Crash Is Held On Technical Charge Of Manslaughter

A Daly City man killed and his wife badly injured was the result of a San Francisco auto accident, Tuesday of this week.

Charles Williamson, 48, 233 Willits street, was driving with his wife up the Rousseau street hill. Near Bosworth street he saw a car approaching, driven by Will Eddy, 21, of 1231 Fifteenth avenue.

Williamson swerved to avoid a collision, but the cars struck with a glancing blow. The auto of the local man skidded and whirled off against the curb. The door flew open and Williamson was thrown from his seat to the pavement. His skull was fractured and he died instantly.

Mrs. Williamson was treated at Alameda Emergency Hospital for fractured ribs and internal injuries. Eddy was held on a technical charge of manslaughter.

Funeral services were held for Williamson from a San Francisco parlor, yesterday at 11 a. m.

Peace Reported On S. F. Waterfront

Formal peace negotiations between striking maritime unions and ship owners were signed yesterday afternoon. Within the immediate future it is expected that normal shipping service will again be carried on along the west coast.

Following reports that the striking unions have voted to return to work, the Dollar Line is rushing preparations on the President Hoover for a voyage to the Orient. Officials hope that the merchant ship will be in readiness to sail tomorrow.

The strike, which was called last November, has tied up San Francisco industry and resulted in million dollar commercial losses.

Business in San Mateo County has been retarded due to the harbor tieup. Construction work on the new Jefferson Union High School gymnasium was stopped because steel shipments could not be made.

GIVES ART COLLECTION

President Roosevelt recommended special legislation to Congress this week which would enable the United States to accept the art collection offered to the government as a gift by Andrew W. Mellon.

Mellon offered to the nation his $19,000,000 collection and proposed to construct in Washington a gallery to house the exhibition.

Plaintiff Of Three Years Loses Suit

Lorraine Faura

Three year old Lorraine Faura scratched her head as she pondered the complexities of the law. The tot sought $500 damages for injuries suffered in an automobile accident. A Los Angeles superior court hearing denied the claim and, instead, awarded the defendants $1600 damages against Lorraine's dad on a cross-complaint.

F. R. INVITED TO ATTEND G. GATE BRIDGE OPENING

Fiesta Celebration May Be Attended By "First Men" Of U. S.—Canada, And Mexico

President Roosevelt will be invited to come to San Francisco to open the great Golden Gate Bridge in person on Friday, May 21!

This announcement was recently made by the general chairman of the Golden Gate Bridge Fiesta, which is to be held in San Francisco from May 20 to 23 to celebrate the opening of the longest single suspension span in the world, which swings across the famous entrance to San Francisco harbor.

An official delegation representing the City and County of San Francisco, the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District, and the Redwood Empire counties of northern California will leave for Washington shortly to present the invitation to the President and Mrs. Roosevelt.

The co-operation of the entire California congressional delegation will be enlisted to join in asking Presi-

INCOMPETENCY CHARGED IN CO. WELFARE DEPT.

Board Of Supervisors To Act As Committee To Decide On Procedure Of Investigation

Laxity in placing young orphans in foster homes was charged, Monday of this week, to incompetency in political appointments. S. A. Keyston, retired San Mateo resident and Civic League leader, made this assertion to the Board of Supervisors.

A thorough survey of the county welfare department was urged at once. The survey, Keyston said, would disclose "inefficiency in the department." He did not directly blame the women employees for laxity, but charged it to "incompetent political appointees." The investigation must reach the entire personnel of the department, all records and methods of procedure in placing orphans in foster homes.

YOUNG GIRL VICTIM

Keyston said that if there had been proper efficiency the incident bringing statutory charges against an Atherton caretaker and involving a 15 year old girl, entrusted to his care, would not have occurred. The girl, an expectant mother, lived with the Heil Sanchez family. Sanchez is accused.

Decision was made by the supervisors that they should sit as a committee to determine procedure in making a thorough investigation of the county welfare situation.

Supervisor Alvin S. Hatch disclosed that no follow-up investigations have been made of the homes in which orphans are placed. He urged that a part time child welfare worker be employed at once. Similar appointment has been recommended by Dr. Charles G. Gans, director of health and welfare.

Floral Displays For Bridge Celebration

To commemorate the opening of the longest single suspension bridge in the world, San Mateo County was urged this week to join a drive for far flung floral displays during the Golden Gate Bridge Fiesta from May 20 to 23.

Appeals to San Francisco and adjoining counties have been made to beautify areas along highways in connection with the colorful parades, land, air and sea spectacles planned.

NEW LIBRARY TO BE IMPROVEMENT FACTOR IN CURRENT DALY CITY CIVIC BUILDING UP PROJECT

Present Building, Seventeen
Years Old, Is Inadequate
To Serve Local Needs

$17,500, equipment (shelves, cases, linoleum) $1500, and fees $1300.

OLD LIBRARY

The present Daly City library, which is located at 6351 Mission street, was erected in 1920. Two lots, constituting the site, were donated by John D. Daly and another public spirited citizen. Building costs were also donated by these two philanthropists. Since the erection of the one story single room structure (25x25 feet) Daly City has doubled its population. Hence the borrowers of library books have doubled in number.

At present 5000 volumes of fiction and reference, a collection of 5000 visual education pictures and hundreds of pamphlets and periodicals are crowded into library space which was originally meant for half that number.

Mrs. J. O'Rourke, chief librarian, and her assistant, Miss Mary Lewis, are unable to make displays of valuable material which comes into their hands because of space shortage. Variety and number of library services which might be provided in a larger building are now denied local citizens because of the serious handicap under which librarians are working in the present quarters.

Mrs. O'Rourke told The Record, this week, that she and Miss Lewis enjoy serving Daly City book borrowers. "We have tried hard," she declared, "to give efficient service in our library, which has become tiny in comparison to the number of people which we serve. We should be very happy to be housed in a new and larger building which would provide adequate space for improved modern library service."

Daly City Boy Celebrates Birth

A merry luncheon was enjoyed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. McHugh of Oliver street, in honor of their son Donald, who celebrated his eleventh birthday.

After the luncheon the group attended a theater party at the local theater. Among those who attended were Viola Elliott, Bonnie Jean McHugh, Stephen Cosgrove, Billie Nossano, Donald Mehan, Eugene Lowery, George Cordelos, Phillip Bolger, John Lee, Henry Nelson, John and Harlan Kinsey and Kenneth and Stanley New.

P. T. A. District Plans Observance

Seventeenth District, California Congress of Parents and Teachers, executive board meeting for February will be held in Burlingame public library, Monday of next week.

Final plans will be made for the district observance of Founders Day on Friday, February 19, when the fortieth anniversary of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers will be celebrated.

A full attendance of executive board members is requested.

Misconduct Charges To Be Investigated

County Executive Walter Kellogg was instructed, Monday of this week, by the Board of Supervisors to investigate charges of misconduct in office, made by undertakers against Coroner William Crosby.

The action was taken at the advice of the office of the district attorney. It was explained by Assistant District Attorney Daniel Sullivan that the new county charter amendment has not yet been fully approved by the legislature and that until such action is taken the charges should be referred to the county executive. He pointed out that the county had been confronted by two lawsuits in the past due to similar cases.

Supervisor Fred E. Beer said he believed the charges were of a serious nature and urged an investigation.

The petition was signed by representatives of five county undertaking firms. The morticians claimed that Crosby violated the charter by actively engaging in politics and further that certain firms were discriminated against by the coroner.

NEW PLANNERS NAMED

The supervisors named three new members to the county planning commission.

Carl Bissett, Burlingame building contractor, was named member at large at the recommendation of Supervisor Beer. Other new members named by Chairman Hugh H. Smith were Z. T. Thorning, Redwood City lumberman and Harry Clark, Miramar, employee of a major oil company. Thorning succeeds Charles Meinert of North Fair Oaks. Clark succeeds R. Guy Smith, Moss Beach postmaster.

The only holdover members of the commission are Martin A. Poss of San Mateo and Mayor C. A. Buck of Burlingame.

Announcement was made by Supervisor Beer that a delegation from the highways committee of the state chamber of commerce will appear before the highway commission in Sacramento today to urge that the widening of El Camino Real between Redwood City and Palo Alto be included on the state budget for the next biennium. J. C. Nowell, city manager of Hillsborough, will be spokesman.

Local War Veteran Called By Death

Funeral services were conducted from a San Francisco mortuary, Monday morning of this week, at 10:30 o'clock, for W. D. Cook of Templeton avenue, who died in St. Luke's Hospital last Friday. Death resulted from complications following an attack of influenza.

The surviving relatives are the widow, Louise, and a son, John Cook. The family have resided in Daly City for the past eight years.

Cook was a member of Printing Pressmen and Assistants Union, Local No. 24, and San Francisco Post, Canadian Legion. He was a World war veteran, having served his country's cause in a Canadian regiment.

Military services were conducted on the morning of the funeral by members of the Canadian Legion. Interment was at Cypress Lawn Cemetery.

Mayor Thanks D. C. Citizens For Help

Mayor Paul Selmi extends to local residents hearty thanks for their splendid co-operation in assisting to make the President's Birthday Ball the gala success that it was. More than 200 Daly City people, including Mayor Selmi, Councilmen Cava-gnaro, Sundermann and Twisten and Judge Wade H. Clay and Police Chief Reardon, attended the affair, Saturday evening of last week, held at Tanforan Club House.

Declaring it "the greatest ball ever staged in San Mateo County" Postmaster Joseph V. Gaffey, general chairman, announced that 2500 dancers were present. The county official family was well represented with the exception of supervisors. Not a member of the board was in attendance.

Due to the fact that moneys on all ticket sales are not yet in, official figures on the proceeds are not available. However, Frank A. Bloom, treasurer, says that "at least $1000" would be netted for the infantile paralysis fight fund in San Mateo County.

The birthday ball this year was directed by a countywide committee which included mayors of all cities and prominent civic leaders.

County Safety Group Head Named Monday

At an initial meeting of the recently selected county traffic safety committee, appointed by District Attorney Ferrell, held at Redwood City, Monday of this week, Sam D. Merk, retired Burlingame newspaper publisher, was named chairman of the group.

Mrs. William J. Hayes of Burlingame, state Parent Teachers Association leader, was named secretary.

Local Resident Dies After Heart Attack

William Gruver, 60, 20 Miriam street, lost consciousness, Monday of this week, as he was walking near Woodrow Wilson School. Gruver was removed to Villa Sanitarium, and was pronounced dead on arrival. A heart attack was said to be the cause of death.

The remains were removed to the mortuary establishment of W. C. Lasswell & Co., where an autopsy was performed by Dr. D. Paoli of Colma. It was reported that the deceased died of natural causes.

Gruver, a native of Dayton, Ohio, has resided in Daly City for the past two years. Funeral services were conducted, Wednesday of this week, with interment at Cypress Lawn Cemetery.

An inquest is pending.

Evening Meeting Nets Whist Prizes

The sewing circle of Vista Grande Camp, Royal Neighbors of America, met, Friday evening of last week, at the home of Mrs. Hammick on Mt. Vernon avenue, San Francisco.

The women spent a busy evening making prizes for a whist party to be held in Eagles Hall in the near future.

Mrs. Agnes Wood, Mrs. Johanna Hedvall and Mrs. A. Hammick composed a committee of three who served dainty refreshments. The table decorations and favors were in keeping with Valentine Day.

Those present were Mesdames Doris Burdick, Annie Smith, Mattie Smith, Mary Walker, Grace Coolish, May Hopkins Cora Ray, Agnes Wood, Johanna Hedvall, Catherine Mara, Lillian Marshal, Anna Plambeck, Lucy Nelson, Alice Appleton, Marie Thompson and Cinderella Weller.

Station One Puts On Entertainment

Station One of the Daly City Fire Department entertained at the fire house on Santa Barbara avenue, Saturday evening of last week, for members and friends. About fifty were present.

The evening was spent in dancing, after which a buffet supper was served.

SHARE OF WORKERS IN WEALTH STUDIED

By J. W. MARCHBANK
Pioneer in Frontier Mining Work

Increasing the purchasing power of the millions in the country is still one of the main objectives of President Roosevelt's policy. Not even the most hide-bound of economic royalists will deny the wisdom of broadening home markets. The vast difference of opinion comes in the means to be adopted for bigger sales in the domestic realm.

Some time ago a report was sent out of Washington that the administration was keeping the weapon of "reform taxation" in readiness in the event that wages in the lower income groups did not respond to a period of recovery. That's heartening news. By no chance should we slip back into the slough of the depression from which we are painfully emerging.

One point of view was expressed by an employee of a large retail organization in a letter to a bureau in the national capital having to do with taxation. The letter said the increased profits of the chain for which he worked were not being passed along to the employees in the lower salary groups. Officials are at present making careful check along this line.

The war of words as to the means of resisting encroachments of dictatorships goes right on, with the best minds everywhere united on the primary promise that dictatorships must be fought to the last ditch. In the matter of details of the fight against dictatorial power there is a wide divergence of opinion. One of the latest of plans for preventing the spread of anti-democratic institutions comes in a book, "We or They," by Hamilton Fish Armstrong.

The author does not see any necessity of becoming disheartened. He firmly believes free speech, free press, free assembly and every other liberty that are integral parts of a democracy can be preserved. He realizes that unless democracy puts up a battle it will disappear from the face of the earth.

The author says that the right of assembly is not the right to wear uniforms and bear arms and again, truthfully enough, he points out no Americans should co-operate politically with embryo dictators, believing, as did some of the business men of Germany, that they can use the demagogues and later get the upper hand, which will not happen.

Returning to the subject of the returns to labor a long investigation by the Brookings Institution shows the present standards of living to be very low. It is on account of such conditions that President Roosevelt keeps up his comprehensive plans for a new distribution of wealth. It is estimated a majority of families obtain less than $1200 yearly, which is about two-fifths of what the institution considers as a reasonably satisfactory living standard.

The crux of the situation seems to be that although employers give lip homage to the notion that voluntary price reduction brings higher profits few of them practice it in their businesses.

Students of economics point out that reduction in railway rates was forced on the companies against their will. They go to the extent of holding that business enterprises will maintain prices as high as possible despite the theoretical advantages of an opposite policy. The chief executive of the nation is finding it difficult to "buck" that age-long position.

There is a likelihood a bill will be introduced in Congress for government ownership of railroads. In the meantime the hearings continue by the Interstate Commerce subcommittee of the Senate in its investigation of railroad holding companies and their financing. It is expected the hearings will be on for months.

Lesson Sermon of Christian Science

"Spirit" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon Sunday, February 7, in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

The Golden Text will be: "We all, with open face beholding as in a glass the glory of the Lord, are changed into the same image from glory to glory, even as by the Spirit of the Lord" (II Cor. 3: 18). Other Bible citations will include: "For he that soweth to his flesh shall of the flesh reap corruption; but he that soweth to the Spirit shall of the Spirit reap life everlasting. And let us not be weary in well doing: for in due season we shall reap, if we faint not" (Gal. 6: 8, 9).

The Lesson-Sermon will also include the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Emerge gently from matter into Spirit. Think not to thwart the spiritual ultimate of all things, but come naturally into Spirit through better health and morals and as the result of spiritual growth" (p. 485).

ARTISTS PREPARE FOR PARILIA

Featuring the fifth annual Parilia and Oceanic Ball the San Francisco Art Association is planning a more spectacular and thrilling pageant this year than the Cambodian Ball, which was proclaimed the "best ever" a year ago. Ralph Clifford and two charming assistants will take part in the gala event. Louise Rosebury (center) and Eva Vidar are adjusting Clifford's costume prior to a costume preview. The theme of the pageant will be "Barbaric Oceania."

The Question Arises—Where is Selfishness?

Undoubtedly government can do a great deal toward controlling many economic influences, although it's a ticklish business that requires deft handling. But when it comes to controlling "blindly selfish men," government may be assuming powers beyond its capacities.

It is recalled that government has long tried to control blindly drinking men. It has succeeded in part, only with the co-operation of those who were willing to be controlled. Therefore, one wishes the government success in stimulating the morality of the citizenry; but the conviction persists that the control of selfishness rests largely on the individual's willingness to lay selfishness aside in favor of the more satisfying joy of service.

The assumption that there is a selfish upper class and an unselfish lower class is not quite tenable, since the general rule is that love of service leads to prosperity, while selfishness is a condition of poverty, irrespective of the possession or non-possession of dollars.

Protest Against Scaring Customer

Timely protest against a British government advertisement suggesting fear has just been made by Sir Arnold Wilson, Conservative M. P. Opposing in the British House of Commons an advertisement restriction bill which left this evil untouched, Sir Arnold said:

"The loathsome atmosphere of fear is being created by a thousand advertisements. I shall not take up the time of the House by mentioning them by name. We all know of them—the fear of some form of disease, the fear of some personal disability, the fear for one's children, the fear for one's family."

"The perpetual appeal to fear is of quite recent growth, and I am sorry to see that the postmaster general himself has been guilty of appealing to it quite recently in connection with the telephone service, by pointing out how mothers may well be afraid of their children being run over in the street and how nice it would be to have a telephone so as to be able to make sure, by telephoning to the headmaster, that their children were in fact being detained at school. That is an unworthy form of advertisement, and the less we hear of it the better."

Sir Arnold is right. But Britain is not alone in tolerating this abuse of advertising. In the United States also the appeal of advertising too often is not to the potential customer's good sense, but to his vanity and to his fear. Such advertising policies are shortsighted, and some advertisers already are waking up to the fact that you can't frighten all the people all the time any more than you can fool them.

Says We Can Conquer World With Kindness

"The only way to conquer the world is to be kinder to people than they expect," said Christopher Morley, the author, speaking at Northwestern University's Thorne Hall in Chicago recently. The difficulty between France and Germany could have been solved ere this by the use of such tactics, he claimed.

France could have "outsmarted" Hitler, Mr. Morley said, if the French had welcomed the German troops into the Rhineland, told Hitler they were expecting them, that the Rhine country really belonged to Germany, and they, the French, were glad the Germans had come.

He holds no brief for Germany, the author declared. But France, he contended, has been fearing ever since the Treaty of Versailles that Germany would do just the thing it has done. France has been expecting it.

Hitler did not expect his move to be met with kindness. For France to have done so would have taken the wind out of his sails. You can conquer the world with kindness, Mr. Morley repeated, adding half humorously, "at any rate, it is the only thing that has not yet been tried."

Another writer, Edwin Markham, has given the same sound advice on defeating one's enemy:

He drew a circle that shut me out, Heretic, rebel, a thing to flout, But love and I had the wit to win, We drew a circle that took him in. When will the nations be smart enough to try it?

HISTORY REPEATED

Two clergymen, one highly educated and the other quite the opposite, were discussing the value of education.

"I suppose," said the latter, "that you have gone through college?"

"Yes, I have," modestly replied the minister.

"Well," declared he of little education, "I am thankful that the Lord opened my mouth without an education."

"Yes," courteously assented the other. "A similar thing, we are told, happened in Balaam's time."

Garden Displays At Art Museum

One of the most complete exhibitions of typical western gardens, done in miniature, ever shown in San Francisco opens today at the War Memorial Building at the Civic Center. Visitors will be welcomed from 12 noon to 10 o'clock in the evening of week days, and from 1 to 5 p. m. on Sundays. The exhibitions will remain in San Francisco till March 22, when they will be taken to other California cities.

There will be historic, formistic, informal and personality gardens. And yards and yards of beautiful yards are scheduled for the show.

All exhibitions are authentic "baby scale" models of typical yards. Garden walls and house walls are made of heavy cardboard, plus plaster of paris or painted-on bricks. Tiled roofs are made of macaroni. Mirrors are used for lily pools. Trees and shrubs are made of twigs. Flowers are artificial, vines are threads and trellises are twisted hairpins. Turkish toweling, painted green and heared to give the effect of a fresh mowing, is used for lawn. Doll houses are robbed for garden furniture, and the people in the scenes are carved and painted soap.

Use Lighter Oil

Maximum engine performance in cold weather usually requires lighter oil than in warm weather.

It is also advisable to drain the crankcase oftener in winter than in summer, because crankcase dilution occurs more rapidly as a result of hard starting and excessive use of the choke.

SHAKESPEARE AN MASTERPIECE AT CURRAN THEATER

Leslie Howard To Present
Notable Version of "Hamlet" At Curran Theater

The gladsome announcement comes forth from the Curran Theater, San Francisco, that the popular international star of the stage and screen, Leslie Howard, will bring his massive and magnificent production of Shakespeare's masterpiece, "Hamlet," there for a limited engagement of two weeks, beginning Monday, February 15. There will be the usual matinees on Wednesday and Saturday, but no Sunday performance.

With a record of many superb achievements on the screen, Mr. Howard returned to his first love, the stage, in a notable version of "Hamlet" early in the fall. The premiere occurred in the Boston Opera House, and the star, cast and production were all enthusiastically acclaimed. Afterward, brief engagements were played in Philadelphia and New York. Then receiving word that he must be in Hollywood early in the spring to make a picture for Warner Brothers, Mr. Howard has since appeared in Chicago, Cleveland, Cincinnati, Pittsburgh, Kansas City, Denver and Salt Lake City. In brief, his "Hamlet" has been seen in fewer than a dozen cities all told, so that playgoers of San Francisco are among the fortunate ones to be so favored.

In order to be sure that the play would have just the right scenic and costume background, Mr. Howard invested his own money to the extent of many thousands of dollars. Stewart Chaney was entrusted with this important part of the production. Schuyler Watts prepared the version after spending many months in research in the British Museum; Virgil Thomson composed the special music.

ALSO POOR ADVICE

"Willie," asked Mrs. Stitts, "can you tell me what the minister meant when he said it was more blessed to give than to receive?"

"Well," replied Willie, thoughtfully, "he must have been thinking of castor oil."

PETERSON OUT OF EXECUTIVE RACE IN S. M. COUNTY

Former State Assemblyman Declares Supervisors Have Already Decided Executive Appointment

ments have been made to a Berkeley man."

LAUNCHING STOCK

The former legislator said the "man from Washington" is Ernest A. Rolison, former city manager of Redwood City, now an assistant to the REA administrator. "The man from Berkeley" was said by Peterson to be Hollis Thompson, $10,000 a year city manager of that city. Thompson denied, recently, that he is a candidate for the executive job.

Peterson said that San Mateo County is the "laughing stock of the state" because it is always changing its officers, and added that his application for county executive was withdrawn "as long as that office remained appointive."

The former assemblyman asserted that the board wanted a "big man for the executive position, not one who knows something." He also alleged that supervisors received dictation from the Civic League.

DEFENDS BOARD

Chairman Smith said "I don't even know what the Civic League is. The board is still open minded about a successor to Mr. Kellogg. If you should ask me who the next county manager would be I couldn't tell you."

Supervisor James S. James, Burlingame, denied ever consulting the Civic League about the appointment.

Monday of this week was the deadline set by the board for receiving applications for the executive job. Although a selection is not necessary till the current term of Kellogg expires in May, it is probable that the appointment will be indicated within a month in order that the manager-to-be may sit in when the county budget is made up.

Old Recipes And Friendliness

Old recipes go hand in hand with friendliness and hospitality. The Experienced Housewives, in their meeting last Tuesday, brought out this thought in interesting plans for the future. So many formulas for good things to eat were turned in that it will take weeks and weeks to use up all of the good material now on hand. Some day these tried ideas will be printed in book form, where one may find the names of friends who did their bit to make our cook book helpful and complete.

The kitcheners enjoyed the luncheon cooked and served by Hostesses H. Elmers, Winnie Frizelle, Amelia Lewis and E. Meier. Refreshments consisted of chili con carne, hot biscuits, beet pickles, three kinds of cake and coffee. Valentines and games furnished a happy conclusion to the luncheon.

The club will meet next month the second Monday in March, at the same address, 416 Irvington street, and the hostesses will be Mesdames Z. Petrocchi, H. Warshawski, Sydney White and Ivy Williamson.

New Member On Fire Commission

George Volkamann, member of station number six, was installed as a fire commissioner at the fire board meeting, held Tuesday evening of this week, at the city hall.

A resignation sent in by George M. Ciarlo was accepted. Ciarlo said he did not have time to fulfill his duties as a fireman. B. L. Meritt was recommended to fill the vacancy which exists at fire station number one.

A smoke mask was ordered for station number six, and a recommendation was offered to purchase a second one for station number five.

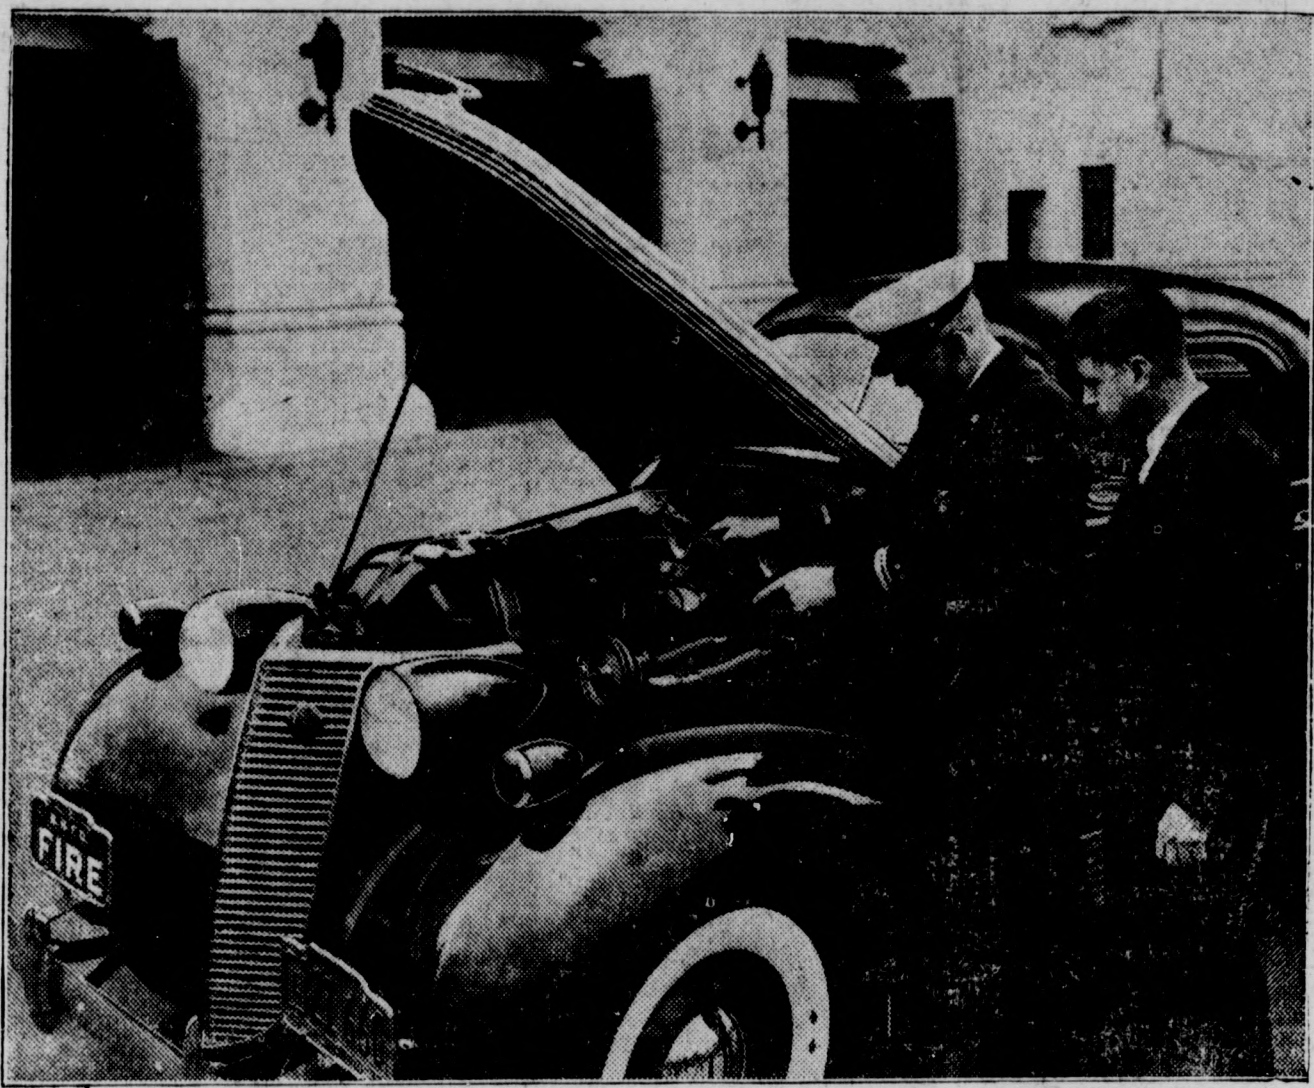

Meet And Dine

The members of the Ladies Auxiliary of Fire Station No. 4, D. C. F. D., met at the home of Mrs. Maynard Chesney on Crocker avenue, Tuesday evening of this week.

Nomination and election of officers was held, the same officers remaining to serve another term.

Following the business meeting the members spent a pleasant evening playing Bingo, after which tasty refreshments were enjoyed by Mesdames Laura Coleman, Flora Foppiano, Theresa Vireno, Maynard Chesney, Henrietta Mather and Grace L. Augustien.

SOME QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Citing Little Known Matters That Should Prove Of General Interest

(By Maude Larue Ives)

Question: What was the first public building erected by the English colonies?

Answer: The old jail at York, Maine, built in 1653. This gambrel-roofed frame building also provided a habitation for the jailer and his family. The old jail is now a colonial museum, visited annually by thousands of tourists.

Question: Who was the greatest of all Dutch artists?

Answer: Rembrandt, known as the "King of Shadows" because of his skill in light and shade. He had the power to transform the commonest objects of everyday life into poetical images by the mystic light in which he placed them.

Question: What three Canadian national parks are world famous?

Answer: Glacier Park, well known to American tourists, covers nearly 500 square miles in British Columbia. It is famous for its ice fields, of which the best known is Illecillewaet Glacier.

Jasper Park, the largest national park in America and one of the most beautiful, comprises 4400 square miles of magnificent mountain scenery on the eastern slope of the Canadian Rockies. Pyramid Lake, Punch Bowl Falls and Fiddle Creek Canyon are only three of the many beautiful and famous spots within its borders.

Rocky Mountain Park, the best known of the Canadian parks, lies directly north of the Glacier National Park in the United States. The beautiful resort region of Banff, Lake Louise and the Valley of the Ten Peaks lie in this park and attract beauty lovers and pleasure seekers from all over the world.

Question: What became of Pocahontas?

Answer: She was converted to the Christian religion and later, in 1614, married John Rolfe of the Jamestown colony. In 1616, after the birth of a son, who was named Thomas, she went with Rolfe to London. Here she was introduced as the daughter of an American king and was welcomed into homes of royalty. In about a year she and her husband started back for Virginia, but Pocahontas died, presumably of smallpox, at Gravesend, near London, where the record of her death and her tomb may still be seen in the parish church.

Her son removed to Virginia in early manhood, and from him sprang some of the most noted families of Virginia. One of his descendants was John Randolph of Roanoke, and Mrs. Edith Bolling Galt, who married President Wilson in 1915.

Question: Where are the Ozark Mountains?

Answer: They extend irregularly from the southern part of Illinois into Missouri and then into Kansas, Arkansas and Oklahoma. They are classed with the oldest mountain regions in the world. The altitude ranges from 1500 to 2000, the highest peak being Pilot Knob, in Iron County, Missouri. The Ouachita Mountains, south of the Arkansas river, are a continuation of the Ozarks.

School Week To Be Observed In April

Public School Week this year will be observed from April 26 to May 2, according to a proclamation issued recently by the grand master of Masons of California.

The celebration this year marks the eighteenth annual observance of the event, which was originally established to aid in correcting a critical condition in the public schools due to a shortage of teaching personnel because of war conditions.

Public Schools Week annually affords the people of California an opportunity of learning for themselves how well school employees, servants of the public, are administering their stewardship.

Co-operation is urged from Parent Teacher groups, the American Legion, Veteran organizations, chambers of commerce and other service and civic groups.

dent Roosevelt to participate personally in the opening ceremonies.

It was pointed out that the President has never visited San Francisco since assuming his national position, although Mrs. Roosevelt toured California and the Pacific coast two years ago.

Besides President and Mrs. Roosevelt, invitations to attend the bridge opening will also be sent to members of his cabinet, to the President of Mexico, the Governor General of Canada, Lieutenant Governor of British Columbia and to the governors of every state in the union, according to the general manager of the Fiesta.

"This is to be an international celebration," he said, "and nothing would be more fitting than to have President Roosevelt and the heads of the governments of Canada and Mexico come to San Francisco to participate in the ceremonies."

"Their presence would be particularly appropriate inasmuch as the bridge will break the last major barrier on the Canada to Mexico highway along the Pacific coast by way of San Francisco and the Redwood Empire."

In recognition of the partnership of parents and teachers who have worked together at community enterprises for the common good of our schools, Governor Merriam has proclaimed February 17, 1937, as Founders Day of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Former Resident Of Colma Passes

Friends and relatives here were shocked at the death in San Francisco, Tuesday of this week, of Michele Devincenzi, aged resident and a native of Italy.

Deceased is survived by his wife Mrs. Palmira Devincenzi, two sons Joseph and Bacci Devincenzi, and four daughters Diva Ciarlo, Julia Ratto, Mary Perata, and Mary Siri. Also two brothers Antonio Devincenzi and Alberto Achirio.

Funeral services were held, Thursday morning of this week, in San Francisco followed by a requiem high mass celebrated at Holy Angels' Church in Colma. Entombment was at the Holy Cross Mausoleum.

Meeting Of P. T. A.

A large attendance was noted at the regular meeting of the Colma Parent Teachers Association which was held, Tuesday afternoon of this week, at the Jefferson Grammar School.

Following an interesting and informative talk by the district president, Miss Muriel Hollingsworth, a recent graduate of the Jefferson Grammar School, favored the audience with a talk on patriotism. Eugene Garibaldi, also a graduate, gave an acceptance speech for the recent award given him by the Parent Teachers unit.

At the close of the session, coffee and cake was served by the refreshment committee, Mrs. H. L. Remington and Mrs. D. Agresti.

Albert Tuccori of First avenue is a patient in the Junipero Serra Hospital where she is recovering from a fractured left elbow. The child slipped down the back stairs of her home Sunday of this week, while at play.

Mr. and Mrs. Irvin W. Ray of Colma are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son recently. Both mother and son are reported doing very well.

Miss Marjorie Fuchs, accompanied by a party of young friends, enjoyed the President's Ball held, Saturday of last week, at the Tanforan club house.

A large crowd attended the Forster's dance held in Colombo Auditorium, Saturday of last week. The hall was beautifully decorated for the occasion truly signifying "a night in Venice."

Friends of Mrs. A. Biancini will be glad to hear that she is successfully recovering from an operation at Mary's Help Hospital in San Francisco and expects to be transferred to her home the latter part of this week.

A stage show was greatly enjoyed by students of Jefferson Union High School, Tuesday of this week. Proceeds from the event were sent to aid flood sufferers in the Mississippi valley.

Mrs. William Kahle of Castle street is reported doing nicely following an operation recently at the Franklin Hospital in San Francisco.

Leonard Graziani of First avenue is also on the mend following an operation in a San Francisco hospital.

Storms Block S. M. County Roads

Heavy storms last week end washed in debris and brought down heavy slides, which partially blocked county roads and state highways at several points on the peninsula. Road crews worked overtime, early this week, to restore transportation routes to normal service condition.

Several slides, at places covering half the roadway, avalanched down onto the coast highway between Skyline boulevard and Sharp Park. Partially blocked in several places was the La Honda road between Woodard creek and Skyline boulevard, a distance of approximately six miles.

A two mile stretch of the King's Mountain road east of Skyline boulevard was closed by heavy slides. Likewise the Alpine road between Memorial Park Junction and the Shrine Park Junction was closed for a short time due to a slide.

Marionette Show In Record Run

Breaking all records for length of run for a marionette show in San Francisco, Ralph Chesse's production of "The Crock Of Gold" is definitely to remain at the Federal Theater for the month of February. This will establish a record of twelve weeks.

The theater is one of the Federal Theater Project houses and is located at 960 Bush street. It is open Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights and Saturday afternoons.

Breathe Mountain Air In Valley

Professor Ignacy Moscicki, president of the Polish Republic, continues his researches in natural science in spite of his strenuous state duties.

The president has a laboratory arranged in his residence at Warsaw Castle where he devotes much of his spare time to investigations and inventions. One of his latest inventions is an apparatus for manufacturing artificial "mountain air."

Lord Mayor's Ditty

Moral of the Codfish and the Hen Is: It Pays to Advertise!

The Lord Mayor of London, Sir Stephen Killik, recently recited this ditty to prove that advertising pays:—

The codfish lays ten thousand eggs,
The homely hen lays one;
The codfish never cackles,
To tell you what she's done;
And so we scorn the codfish,
And the homely hen we prize;
Which demonstrates to you and me
That it pays to advertise!

Sir Stephen was presiding at the annual meeting at the Mansion House of the London Philanthropic Society.

Bridge Toll Cut—Motorists Grin

Motorists who make use of the new $70,000,000 San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge had good cause to grin recently when the one-way toll was cut from 65 to 50 cents. Gladys Hillberg, Turlock, Cal., nurse, is pictured as she handed toll-taker Dick Schimmel a 50-cent piece—thereby becoming the first motorist to take advantage of the "cut rate" fare. Reduction of interest rates on government-held bonds was instrumental in bringing the lower rate.

Bridge Toll Cut To Fifty Cents

Effective Monday of this week, the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge toll was cut from 65 to 50 cents for passenger cars. State toll bridge authorities set the new rate, late last month, at a meeting in Sacramento.

A commuting rate of $17.50 for 50 passenger car trips in any calendar month was also set up.

Jeff Hi Students Give To Red Cross

Showing their willingness to help those less fortunate than themselves, the students of Jefferson Union High School have contributed a tidy sum to help the sufferers in the flood area.

A vaudeville program presented, Tuesday afternoon of this week, provided the medium by which the fund was raised. The admission to this program was ten cents, but many of the students gave more than that. As a result over 65 dollars was raised.

The student performers presented a fine show. Bob Lee, star athlete, capably handled his duties as master of ceremonies. He and Bob Maroni presented a humorous skit entitled "Phoney-tone News Flashes." Eight other features completed the program.

Program Announced By Federal Music

Second production in the free "Workshop Recital" series at 400 Steiner street, and a concert with full orchestra and soloists at the Palo Alto Community Center constitute major activities, next week, of the San Francisco Federal Music Project.

"Workshop Recital" No. 2, Tuesday evening of next week, will present Cicely Weston, violinist; John St. Edmunds, pianist; Amerigo Frediani, tenor, and Douglas Thompson, pianist, in compositions of Faure, Liszt and John St. Edmunds. Commentator at the informal program will be M. Lawrence Story.

Bach and Beethoven are the musical fare for Palo Alto, also on Tuesday of next week. Two Palo Alto violinists will be guest artists in the Bach D minor concerto, Elizabeth Strong and Elizabeth Peirce. Baritone soloist in five songs of Beethoven will be Walter Lorenz. Remainder of the program, which will be conducted by Ernst Bacon, is an "Air" of Bach and Beethoven's Seventh symphony.

FLOOD BENEFIT DANCE

To raise funds for the benefit of flood victims, the American Legion, Post No. 410, and auxiliary will sponsor a Valentine dance, Saturday evening of next week, at 474 San Diego avenue. Refreshments will be served.

The sponsoring committee for the affair is composed of Cleo Miller, A. G. K. Jacobson and Mrs. Alice Riley.

School Notes From Woodrow Wilson

Superintendent R. L. Crane of the Jefferson School District has called for contributions to the Red Cross flood relief fund. School children are responding generously to the invitation to aid suffering Americans. The drive for funds closes today.

Moving pictures have brought visual education aid to pupils in social study classes at Woodrow Wilson Elementary School. In these classes, instructed by Miss Vireno, illustrative moving pictures follow class study and discussion. "Case studies show," says Miss Vireno, "that children learn more rapidly when they see, as well as read, about their study subjects."

Last week "Life on the Sahara," a short motion picture, was shown to pupils. School children wrote essays on the film.

Nadine O'Brien of the high eighth grade wrote in part:

"California has been the topic of our motion pictures, but recently a film containing happenings from the Sahara desert has brought us new knowledge on that subject. Geography books give us the practical learning, which is necessary in a geographical course, but a clearer perception of knowledge is given by the actual witnessing of scenes taken from the particular regions."

Joe Battaglier, seventh grader, wrote:

"The moving picture machine helps us a great deal with our studies. We have recently seen a picture about life on the Sahara desert. This desert is in the northern part of Africa and is the largest desert in the world."

"In this great desert live very dark skinned people called Nomads. These people live in tents because they keep moving along the desert with the beast of burden, the camel. They choose the camel instead of a horse because it can carry many things and go for days without water."

"The Nomads go across the desert in small groups, or caravans. They take with them their animals such as the donkey, sheep and goat. The Nomads trade goods at the oasis market. The things we see in motion pictures make what we study, read and talk about in our social study classes become more real."

Baby Found Dead In San Mateo Ditch

Dead from exposure, a new born baby girl was found near 150 South Ellsworth street in San Mateo, yesterday morning, in a ditch partly filled with water.

Norman McAbed, store manager, made the discovery at 8 a. m. The infant, a white child with dark hair, was apparently placed carefully at the scene. Its arms were neatly folded.

An autopsy disclosed the baby was born alive, but died several hours later from exposure and hemorrhage. Police are combing the entire peninsula in an attempt to locate the mother.

Strongest Gale In History Recorded

The storm yesterday brought to San Mateo County the strongest gale ever recorded in this area. A 68 mile wind whipping rain from the south blew down poles, trees and fences.

Peninsula damage rolled into the hundreds of dollars. In Burlingame and San Mateo several automobiles were struck by falling trees and branches.
